Self-Generation Incentive Program: Battery Storage for Income Qualified and Vulnerable Communities

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) recently made available more than $600 million in rebates for battery storage to help Californians save money and stay safe during wildfire-related power outages.

This webinar will provide an overview of the Self-Generation Incentive Program (SGIP) for local officials, community-based organizations, residents, and critical infrastructure providers who are interested in accessing these programs.

Please join staff from the CPUC, the Center for Sustainable Energy, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, San Diego Gas & Electric, Southern California Edison, and Southern California Gas Company to learn about the incentives, who is eligible, and how to apply.
